Dear Client,

I hope this letter finds you in good health.

Sharing information regarding health care is something I feel compelled to do. I would like to tell you about an alternative health practitioner who I have been extremely fortunate to have met. His name is Dr. Steven Silverman. He is a chiropractor, New York State Certified Nutritionist, and the most advanced kinesiologist I have ever come across.

Many of you know I have been practicing kinesiology for the past 14 years. I consider myself fairly good at this art. Dr. Silverman is at a level well beyond my skills and that of any other doctor practicing kinesiology that I have had exposure to. He has helped me in so many ways and has such advanced methods in approaching health care issues that I feel obliged to tell you about him.

Dr. Silverman has been in practice for 30 years. He is able to treat a vast array of health issues. He treats many people with musculo-skeletal and neurological effects from chronic Lyme disease, Fibromyalgia, Epstein-Barr Virus, Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, chronic and persistent yeast and Candida problems, food allergies, headaches, arthritic pains, and so much more. I have seen such incredible results from people that have gone to him that I am truly amazed. He is a gift to us and a talent difficult to match. You can go to his web site to obtain more extensive information about Dr. Silverman, his background, and his practice. His web address is www.drstevensilverman.com.

I believe if you have any health issues you should see this doctor. He is caring and compassionate and most of all extremely advanced in his approach.

If you have any questions about him please feel free to call his office or you can even call me. You will be happy that you did so.

Dr. Silverman's offices are in Roslyn Heights (516) 484-0776 and Hauppauge (631) 724-6780.

Best Regards,

Dan Goldberg
